

RE INTENT

At Cranbrook Primary School, Religious Education plays a significant part in pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development.

Our RE curriculum intends:

- That young pupils are able to understand themselves within the context of a diverse society, so that they are equipped to be active citizens with the confidence to engage with peers whose background is different from their own.
- To encourage respect and open-mindedness towards different faiths and beliefs.
- That pupils, through an enquiry approach, develop an understanding for expression of beliefs and cultural practices.
- That pupils understand the necessity for demonstrating mutual respect.
- That we strive for increasing harmony between people from different backgrounds.
- That each year group makes a visit to a religious place of worship.
- That assemblies and performances provide a celebratory approach to the main religious events for our school community.
